Song Wins the 2009 Championship

Jennifer Song, 19, of Ann Arbor, Mich., defeated Kimberly Kim, 17, of Hilo, Hawaii, 7 and 6, to win the 2009 U.S. Women's Amateur Public Links Championship at the 6,267-yard, par-72 Red Tail Golf Club in Devens, Mass.

With the usual match-play concessions, Song was nine under par for the 30 holes of the scheduled 36-hole match. Hitting tee shots in the 250-yard range, she never missed a fairway and missed hitting only five greens in regulation. Song, a business major in her sophomore year at the University of Southern California, said it was the best golf she has played in competition.

"Today, I was super hot," said Song, who was runner-up at the 2008 championship. "I can't believe I made a bunch of birdies and some of the putts were really hard. The speed was really crucial and I didn't expect to make them. I just said, 'Jen, get the speed right, and I'll be very happy.' They just dropped in and I'm so grateful."

No putt showed more skill than the downhill, right-breaking 12-footer she made at the 25th hole to go 7 up.

"At that point I thought, 'OK, you've got it, so don't change yourself. Stay in this attitude you had this whole week,'" said Song.

Song made 10 birdies in the final. Two were conceded, an 18-foot birdie putt on the 13th hole and a tap-in on the 26th hole. She made only one bogey in the match.

With a 5-up advantage after 18 holes, Song captured the par-3 23rd with a birdie to go 6 up. Kim birdied the par-4 24th hole to trim the margin to 5 up, but Song birdied the next two par-4 holes, the 25th and 26th, to again go 7 up. The match ended on the 30th green.

Kim was one under par, with the usual match-play concessions, with five birdies and four bogeys.

"I really tried hard to focus on my game, because she was having such a hot day," Kim said.

This was Song's first national championship title. She was runner-up in the 2009 NCAA Championship.

Weather

Rainy and windy with gusts to 25 mph on Monday with temperatures in the low 60s. Windy, with gusts to 20 mph, Tuesday with highs near 70 and scattered showers. Cooler, with temperatures near 60, and rainy Wednesday morning but clearing and warmer in the afternoon with highs near 70. Pleasant and partly sunny Thursday with temperatures near 80. Partly cloudy Friday morning with a few light scattered showers in the afternoon. High temperatures in the upper 70s with winds of 5-15 mph. Sunny and pleasant Saturday with a few clouds. Highs in the upper 70s with very light winds.

Notes

None of the nine mid-amateurs (age 25 and older) survived the cut for match play, which came at 8-over-par 152 ... Medalist Stephanie Kono defeated Emily Powers in the first round and avoided the mythical medalist jinx. The medalists the previous two years, 2007 and 2008, lost in the first round ... Jisoo Park of Korea, just 14 years old, advanced to the semifinals ... Casie Cathrea, 13, was the youngest quarterfinalist in history. She was one month younger than Michelle Wie, who went all the way to the winner's circle in 2003. Cathrea lost to eventual champion Jennifer Song in the quarterfinals ... USGA officials made an interesting decision for the quarterfinals, moving up the tee on the par-5 18th hole some 40 yards, which gave the players the choice of going for the green in two shots. A water hazard guarding the right side of the green made the dilemma more interesting ... Song was born in Ann Arbor, Mich., and has dual citizenship in the U.S. and Korea ... Kimberly Kim, one of the finalists, won the 2006 U.S. Women's Amateur at the age of 14, the youngest champion in history. She also was a member of the victorious 2008 USA Curtis Cup Team ... Leigh Klasse, 49, of St. Anthony, Minn., won a USGA gold medal as a member of the Minnesota squad that won the 2001 Women's State Team Championship.

Championship History

In April 1977, when entries for the first U.S. Women's Amateur Public Links Championship began to trickle in, there was concern.

Would the first national championship ever staged for women who play the country's public courses attract enough players to fill the field? Did it justify the effort to set up 27 qualifying sites around the country?

By May, the trickle of entries had become a steady stream. When the June deadline for entries arrived and the results were tallied, the astonishing reality was that this championship had attracted a field of 686 players — more than the combined fields of the 1977 Women's Amateur, Women's Open, Senior Women's Amateur and Girls' Junior.

The entry figure was amazing for several reasons. First, this was a new championship that would need time to build interest. Second, some states didn't even have organizations to assist women public-course players, conduct sectional qualifying or raise funds, and the 686 entries were drawn from only 24 states.

The 1977 championship was played on the East Course of Yahara Hills Golf Course in Madison, Wis. Kelly Fuiks, 19, of Phoenix, Ariz., was the first champion. In fact, for the first four years, the championship was the personal property of two outstanding players. Fuiks won again in 1978 before turning professional. Lori Castillo won in 1979 and 1980, and at one time held or shared every individual record in the championship.

Castillo won 11 consecutive matches before losing in the second round in 1981.

The championship received a boost when Castillo was selected as a member of the 1980 USA Curtis Cup Team. By that year, the Women's Amateur Public Links was regarded as a highly competitive arena for some of the best amateurs in the country. Since then, Heather Farr, Danielle Ammaccapane, Cindy Schreyer, Tracy Kerdyk, Pearl Sinn, Tracy Hanson, Amy Fruhwirth, Jill McGill, Jo Jo Robertson, Annie Thurman (Young), Michelle Wie, Tiffany Joh and Mina Harigae, all WAPL champions, also have been named to Curtis Cup Teams.

Pearl Sinn accomplished a unique double in 1988 when she won the Women's Amateur as well as the Women's Amateur Public Links. When she repeated as WAPL champion in 1989, she and Curtis Strange, who won the U.S. Open, were the only two to repeat as USGA champions that year. Jennifer Song also won both titles in 2009.

McGill also achieved the double win. She was the holder of the 1993 U.S. Women's Amateur title when she won the 1994 Women's Amateur Public Links Championship.

In 2003, Wie became the youngest winner of an "adult" USGA championship at the age of 13.

The championship also was noteworthy because of its team trophy, which was captured a record five times by teams from Phoenix, Ariz., and Murietta, Calif. The team championship was discontinued following the 2008 championship.

In 2002, the final was played over 36 holes for the first time. In 2005, a Handicap Index limit of 18.4 was established.

Thirteen-year-old Casie Cathrea advanced to the quarterfinals, where she lost to eventual champion Jennifer Song.
